Steno had the victory, that his valour was highly commended: hee was after wards, and his Conforts, being deman. ded hostages by chistiern 2. King in Denmarke, carried Prisoners into Denmarke, and se kept in a Castle called Kalp, in Iutland; out of which, hee notlong aster, in a disguised habit, being unknowne, escaped and arrived lase at Lubeck, in Anno 1519; from thence passing through many dangers, arrived, in the end, safely in his owne Countrey Sweden, and came into Reffnas, his Cousins pas trimony. But when hee understood that his Father, with others principall States of the kingdome were lately before strangely put to death, he was so incensed against the enemies of his native Country, that he did assemble together his Countrey-men from all places, to whom hee represented the miserable estate of their native Country, and that they were all dead men, if they did not free themselves from the present tyranny by ioynt !! ayd aydandassistance. Whereupon hee was instantly chosen, by the Sates of Dalten Governour, named and proclaimed to be the Protectour of the liberties in the yeare of Christ, 1521. Hee had out of Darlecarliena brave Companie of men. which are accounted the valiantest men in the whole kingdome of Sweden, with whom he did purtue the Danes who had enquartered themselves in Scaudia, and did besiege Holm for the space of two yeares, which is the chiefe City in the kingdome, and in the end took the same, and by the helpe of the valiant Towner men, did beate out the Danes that were there in Garrison. For this heroicall fact he was chosenking of Sweden and Gothland, the fourth of lune, in Annu 1523, and named a Delinerer of the Native Countrey, with much loy and alacticy by all that did truly loue their Countrey.

This being done, he did first of all (to) the end hee might manifest his thankfull disposition, and that he was not vimind-full of the kinde deeds expressed towards: him) ratifie and confirme in his owne and the States name of Sweden to the Citie of Lubeck, Dantzick, and to other neighbour Cities, stately and great privileges, rights and immunities granted vnto them. Hee did not receive the Crowne till the 12. of Ianuary, 1528, after such timeas heehad caused all those to be executed who might have beene an hinderance vnto him, and who through the Bilhops power, and abundance of "riches, were growne stubborne, who "didraise one disquietnesse vpon another against the Kings, and who were also the onely occasion of all the former warres and insurrections.

Now the civill and forraigne warres being thus happily brought to an end, and the wished peace appearing againe, to the end that the kingdome which was thus recovered by meanes of his heroicall vertues and valour might bee so maintained, he tooke special care that good lawes and

and discipline with the exercise of the true Religion, should be settled and established throughout the whole kingdome. And thus hee continued and reigned peaceably the space of 40 yeares, until his death, which happened the 29 of November, in the yeare of Christ, 1560, at the age of 70 yeares, and was buried in Upsalia. He had three wives, the first, Katharine, the daughter of Magnus 2. Duke of Low-Saxony in Engern and West-phalia, they was married at Stockholm the 24 of September, 1531. Shee had, foure yeares after, a fall from her horse, whereof shee died the 23 of September, 1535.

The second was Margaret his Kinstwoman, the daughter of Eric Abraham of Lobolm, Knight, and Governour of West-gothland. This Eric Abraham was also beheaded in Anno 1520, by the command of Christiern 2. King of Denmarke: he did marry her the first of October, 1536, in which years she was also crowned. This Margaret dyed the 26 of August, 1551.

Also "those of Stetin obtained this privilege, "That for all the goods in a ship, tho-"row, the Sound, they should pay for " ship and all for custome, no more than cone Rose-noble. At the beginning of these warres, this Eric caused his Brother Iohn, Duke of Finland to be apprehended in the night, and committed Prisoner in the Castle Aboen at that time when the said John least thought of it; Eric having no other cause than a suspition which he had of him that he was not to be truffed because the said Iobn his wife, who was fister to Sigifmund, King of Polonia was his enemie, and made all his neighbours to rise against him. Having thus held Iohn sundry yeares in Prison, with his sonne, a childe of two yeares old, in the end hee purposed to put them both to death, that hee might afterwards give his brothers wife in marriage to the Muscouit, whereunto they two were before agreed. But beforethat hee could accomplish
